

da Vinci
ASSOCIATION OF

ENGINEERS
ARCHITECTS
SCIENTISTS
INDUSTRIALS

Afterworking

for young engineers

Thomas Dentzer
Global life sciences & healthcare industry and its recent developments in Luxembourg

Forum Da Vinci | 6, bd Grande Duchesse Charlotte | Sept. 18 | 6 pm
please sign up at aliasbl@pt.lu

Thomas Dentzer

Education

- PHD in virology, The Rockefeller University, New York, USA
- Master in molecular biology, Albert-Ludwigs University Freiburg, Germany
- Bachelor in biology, Fredericana University Karlsruhe, Germany
- Diplome de fin d'études, Lycee Michel Rodange, Luxembourg

Professional Career

- Head of Life Sciences Sector, Luxinnovation
- Life Sciences and Healthcare consultant, Deloitte
- Project manager, Centre de recherche public Santé (CRP-Santé)
- Post-doc, The Rockefeller University, New York

Research and development in Life Sciences has had many breakthroughs in the last 150 years with important implications on our daily life, ranging from disease treatments to prevention, quality of life and lifespan expansion as well as beauty and life style related improvements. As an emerging sector in Luxembourg, the country is well on its way and has already left the first footprints.

The presentation will be followed by a barbeque offered by da Vinci a.s.b.l.